COUNTY SAVES ON PRISON COST

Board Draws Contract with Columbus for Housing Workhouse Prisoners.

SAVING TO BE $700 A YEAR

New Rate Is 80 Cents a Day as Compared with $1 at Dayton Institution.

Marion county prisoners sentenced to serve terms in the workhouse after Jan. 1 will be sent to Columbus instead of Dayton as a result of a contract drawn up Saturday between county commissioners and John P. McCune, director of public safety of Columbus.

The switch will save the county more than $700 in 1934 if the number of prisoners sentenced from Marion county remains the same, according to commissioners.

Save 20 Cents a Day

Cost of keeping Marion county prisoners at the Columbus workhouse will be 80 cents a day as compared with $1 a day now charged by the city of Dayton.

For the first ten months of this year the county paid $3,076 to Dayton for care of prisoners sentenced from the county, an average of $307 each month. The 20 per cent saving effected by the change will reduce this amount by $61.40 each month, or approximately $735 for the year.

Marion county prisoners now serving sentences at the Dayton workhouse will not be affected by the change, commissioners said. Only those prisoners who receive sentences after Jan. 1 will go to the Columbus penal institution, which was built only recently.

Contract Expires

The county has sent its workhouse prisoners to Dayton for a number of years, although it has had no regular contract with the city of Dayton since last April, when the contract expired.

A saving in transportation costs also will be effected by the change from Dayton to Columbus. The distance by railroad to Dayton is 85 miles and to Columbus, 45. The county allows 36 cents a mile to the sheriff for transportation expenses and the transfer will mean a saving of $2.88 on each round trip, commissioners point out.

CONVICTION UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

Irene Shrader, Glenn Dague Face Chair for Pennsylvania Murder.

By The Associated Press PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—The state supreme court today upheld the conviction with death penalty of Mrs. Irene Shrader and W. Glenn Dague, convicted for the murder of a state highway patrolman near New Castle, Pa., nearly a year ago.

Mrs. Shrader, 21-year-old blonde, and Dague, former automobile salesman, were convicted of killing Corporal Brady Paul, Dec. 31, 1932, when he sought to question them about a holdup.

They were tried separately in New Castle last March, convicted of murder in first degree and the penalty fixed at death. Appeal to the supreme court was taken when the New Castle court denied motions for new trials.

The girl and Dague formerly lived in Washington, W. Va., where she was a waitress. She left her husband and Dague left his wife. Police were digging them for a holdup in the city when they were arrested.

Police say they shot their way in the holdup. Paul being killed and a $1,000 ransom being obtained.

DEATH TOLL AT 37 IN EUROPEAN STORM

30 Die as Ship Founders in Terrible Gale Sweeping Continent and British Isles.

By International News Service LONDON, Nov. 24.—Thirty-seven persons were killed and many others injured by a terrible storm which swept across northern Europe and the British Isles, rendering thousands homeless and paralyzing shipping.

Thirty lives were lost when the German liner Albatross foundered in the North Sea. The ship was carrying 100 passengers and crew.

The Albatross was being watched with some anxiety while crossing the North Sea. The ship was carrying 100 passengers and crew.

Rivers on Rampage

International News Service correspondents throughout Europe reported the death and destruction wrought by the storm. Rivers in France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and Austria rose to abnormal heights, inundating the surrounding countryside, destroying property and livestock and depriving thousands of their homes.

In Vienna, three deaths were attributed to the storm, the casualties being caused by falling walls and chimneys, weakened by an 80-mile-an-hour gale. A girl was drowned in the lower Rhine district of Germany and three deaths were reported from France when a fishing smack sank in the river Loire.

Paris Area Flooded

In Paris the Seine swollen by torrential rains rose to an unusual height and some fears were felt of a repetition of the disaster of 1910.

Sleep-Walker Kills 1, Slashes 2 With Razor

By The Associated Press NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Michael Filosa went walking in his sleep with a razor early to day and when his journey was over his half brother had been slashed to death and his mother and half sister were unconscious in their Brooklyn home with grievous wounds.

Police, summoned by screaming neighbors, found Filosa standing in the front room with a razor in his hands and a dazed expression on his face. In one bedroom they found Salvatore De Hall, 18, dead, and in another his mother, Mrs. Anna De Hall, 49, and his sister, Catherine, 14, suffering from numerous wounds.

Filosa was taken to police headquarters where he was held on an open charge pending developments.

Filosa is 28 years old, unmarried and a house painter. Police said he had long been a victim of somnambulism.

SOCIETY FLIER HOPS IN TRY FOR RECORD

Miss Ruth Nichols Starts Effort To Lower Coast-to-Coast Mark.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24.—Apprehensive weather bureau reports of a falling barometer in the northwest, Miss Ruth Nichols, New York society aviatrix, today postponed until tomorrow morning the continuation of her transcontinental speed flight in quest of a woman's record.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Miss Ruth Nichols skimmed off in quest of the women's transcontinental flight record held by Mrs. Keith Miller of Australia.

The society aviatrix, flying a radio-equipped plane called "The New Cincinnati," planned four stops before reaching Los Angeles. She expected to touch today at Port Columbus, Ohio, and St. Louis, and spend the night at Wichita, Kan.

Tomorrow, if all goes well, she will halt briefly at Albuquerque, N. M., and then go on to the coast. Miss Nichols, who has several difficult flights to her credit, hoped to better the 25 hours, 44 minutes flying time in which Mrs. Keith Miller recently made the east-west trip.

Miss Nichols' accomplishments include a non-stop flight from New York to Miami in January, 1928—the first flight ever made. She was accompanied by Harry Rogers and Major M. K. Lee. Later she made a 12,000-mile air tour of 100 cities.

She was tried separately in New Castle last March, convicted of murder in first degree and the penalty fixed at death. Appeal to the supreme court was taken when the New Castle court denied motions for new trials.

Board Proposes Immigration Suspension Until 1933.

By International News Service WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Suspension of all immigration until July 1, 1933, to further relieve the unemployment situation, was being considered today by congressional leaders following the announcement of Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania.

Reed's resolution will be one of the first to be received by congress next month and immediate action is expected.

The only exceptions, according to Reed's plans, would be to immediate relatives of foreigners now in the United States, Filipinos and persons from Central and South America would be included in the restriction, Reed said.

That is what I tried to get passed to do last winter," Secretary of Labor Davis said today in commenting on Reed's plan.

Adam Sherman Somerlot, 75, for many years a grocer on Woodrow avenue, died Saturday at 3 p. m. at City hospital. The attending physician said this morning that death was due to shock following a major operation Saturday morning.

Mr. Somerlot moved his grocery from the Woodrow street location to Elm avenue, about two months ago, but the new store was never opened because of his illness. He made his home at 271 Elm avenue with his sister, Miss May Somerlot. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge, in Green Camp. He was born Oct. 2, 1855, in Clardon township to Christian and Mary Sherman Somerlot, both deceased. He never married.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the W. C. Boyd funeral home on South Main street, in charge of Rev. W. Martell George, pastor of Wesley M. E. church. Interment will be made in Marion cemetery. The body may be viewed at the funeral home.

RISE IN CORN PRICE LIKELY

Forecast Possibility of Increase; May Trend Other Way.

The Associated Press, Nov. 24.—Corn prices in the country may increase during the winter and spring months, but there is a possibility that prices may be somewhat lower at the end of the season, according to a bulletin issued here today by the Ohio Farm Bureau.

The bulletin states that there is a possibility that prices may be somewhat lower at the end of the season, according to a bulletin issued here today by the Ohio Farm Bureau.

The bulletin continues that the corn situation includes factors which suggest an immediate upward in corn prices. In the market figures for all years have been curiously free from any indications whatsoever as to whether prices but Chicago corn is 10 cents a bushel would appear to be too cheap in view of the shortage of feed.

Controlling Factor. Corn prices in rural districts of Ohio are at present controlled largely by the Chicago market.

There has been, in the past, a tendency for farmers to prefer such feed as hominy when it became necessary to purchase corn or some substitute, but with corn selling on a basis under the substitutes, Ohio farmers may expect an increase in the demand for corn. Feed buying this winter will be done very carefully, so that corn prices can not long remain below prices for other feeds.

The reduction in freight rates in drouth areas has had something to do with hay prices. It is stated these reductions will end in November. Timothy hay at Chicago is something like $4.50 higher than a year ago for the best grade. The increase in price places timothy hay back to its old position.

Substitutes for Hay. A number of substitutes for timothy hay are already appearing on the market and most of these are under-selling hay. Oats, hulls and molasses are a feed which compares very well in feeding value with timothy hay and is sold at lower prices. Much straw is being used. Farmers are saving every possible stalk of corn fodder this winter. The carryover of old hay was fairly large. By the middle of winter and later there is a possibility that these bearish influences may begin to effect hay prices.

When shrinkage and losses are considered there is quite a probability that hay is worth more today than it will be worth four months from now. At times like the present, when uncertainty prevails in all prices, any forward looking estimates must necessarily be accepted with much allowance for changes.

The course of prices often runs counter to the general opinion that prices increase during the years of shortages. This is especially true of such feed stuffs as hay, for which there are so many substitutes.

A golf course laid out in Northern Manitoba recently brought many sarcastic remarks from miners in that section.

Townless highways systems are being advocated in the United States and Great Britain.

WILLIAM H. JUDD, 72, DIES AT HOME HERE

Library Shelves Hold New Children's Books

Found on the shelves of the Carnegie public library are many new books of interest to children. Among them are "To Market to Market," by Tock, the story of the Dutch duck and the Dutch mouse who went to Op-Zoon and home again; "Angus and the Ducks," by Flack, which tells of how Angus the Scotch terrier found out what made the strange noise that came over the bridge; "The Painted Pig," by Mrs. Dwight Morrow, which is the story of Pita and Pedro and the boys they played with in Mexico; "The Picture Book of Ships," by Glimmer, which tells of all kinds of boats and ships from outboard motor to ocean liner; "Timothy and the Blue Cart," by Whitney, a story of three little American children who stay in the country; "Liang and Lo," by Wiese, who set out on the back of a water buffalo to find a dragon; "Judith Lancaster," by Alice, a story of Quaker pioneer life in Indiana; "The Boy and the Parrot," by Costworth, the story of young Sebastian of Guatemala as he paddles his wares from the pack on his back; "The Tale of Tom Tiddler," by Farjeon, the adventures of Tom Tiddler while searching for Jinny Jones; "Meggy Macintosh," by Gray, a good story of romance and adventure for older girls; "The Blacksmith of Vilno," by Kelly, the scene of which is laid in Poland. Other shelves hold "Candidate for the Line," by Barbour, a stirring story of school athletics and football in particular; "King's Spurs," by Carter, a story of romance and chivalry in the time of King Philip of France; "Singing Seaman," by Crew, the dramatic story of the long siege of Troy; "Freedom's Daughter," by Crownfield, a story of a group of Quakers in the days of the American Revolution; "A Baker's Dozen," by Davis, stories to read and tell; "Derry of Totem Creek," by Evans, a good adventure story of the far north; "Three Christmas Trees," by Ewing, three old childhood favorites; "Famous Events in American History," by McFee, including 50 of the most famous happenings; "Dark Star of Izza," by Malkin, the story of the Maya people of Yucatan; "Missing Katchina," by Moon, the story of two little Navajo Indian children; "Little Rag Doll," by Phillips, the adventure of a little rag doll; "Finders Keepers," by Rankin, an excellent story for older boys and girls.

NEXT YEAR...PERHAPS THERE MAY BE OTHER RADIOS LIKE THESE
...BUT NOT NOW!

At left:
New Super de Luxe Model 71, a Tudor lowboy of selected woods. Like all Super de Luxe Zenith receivers it employs the new screen-grid 70 Zenith chassis, 9 tubes, with rectification. Tone Control. $185, less tubes.

Other Super de Luxe Zeniths from $210 to $2500

New Super Zenith Model 11, a semi-highboy of selected woods. New Zenith super-eight, screen-grid chassis, standard with all the new Super Zeniths. 8 tubes with rectification. Tone Control. $155, less tubes.

Other Super Zenith Receivers from $155 to $175

Right now you will find that many of the features of other radios today were the things you saw on a Zenith a year ago. And right now...by this same token...you will find that the new Super Zenith receivers are just as definitely advanced over the present crop. For here is an entirely new conception of tone...with perfections in sensitivity and selectivity that enable you to enjoy this finest tone beyond all former boundaries of distance...with hitherto unknown hair-breadth separation of stations. You, too, can be a year ahead by placing one of these year-ahead Super Zeniths in your home now.

TAKE that Padlock off your Purse!

YOU may think in sealing up your purse you are protecting your individual prosperity in hoarding a reserve that will keep you until real good times come around again. Don't you realize that within that locked purse you are actually imprisoning prosperity and the scarcer will be the dollars that will come to you to store away in that purse?

Whether you are a wage-earner, a merchant or a manufacturer your income must come from what some one else is spending or consuming. People must buy the things you sell or produce or business becomes stagnant ... the wage-earner is discharged, the merchant fails and the manufacturer ceases production for lack of replacement orders.

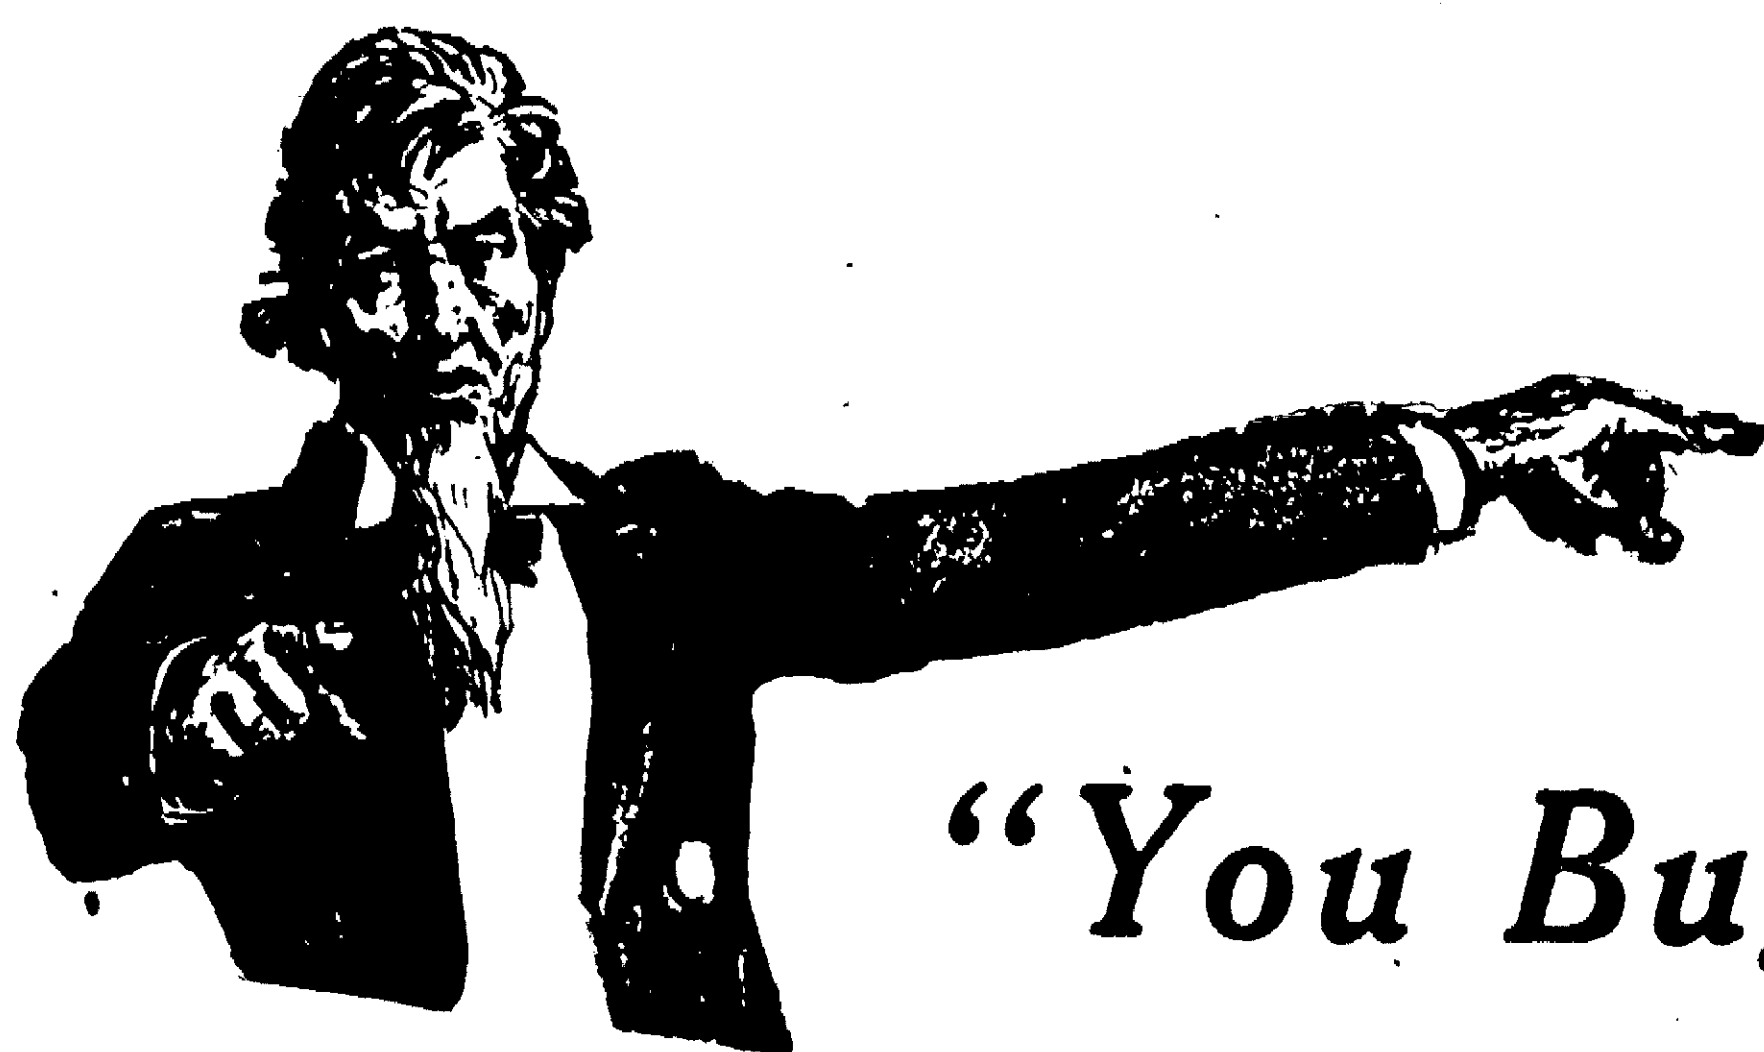

Where is your income coming from if every one keeps a padlock on his purse? Spending is the only media of prosperity ... money kept in circulation is the motive power that keeps business going; keeps employment active and guarantees your personal prosperity.

IT'S PATRIOTIC TO BUY NOW.
IT'S GOOD SENSE TO BUY NOW.
IT'S THRIFTY TO BUY NOW.

All America is coming to a realization of that fact now ... awakening to the real source of depression and is entering upon a relief program of Buying so that the merchant has an outlet for his goods ... so he can order from the manufacturer ... so the manufacturer can employ more help to produce those goods ... so the worker can earn more money to spend. There is no relief from depression; no return to prosperity; no solution to unemployment until buying becomes general.

The manufacturers and merchants are doing their part now to make buying an inducement and a profit to the consumers because prices now on all important commodities are down to the lowest possible levels.

This is the last of a series of four advertisements, inserted by the business and civic organizations of Marion, in support of the national "Buy Now" campaign. Special buying inducements in every Marion store from November 15th to November 25th. Prevailing Prices are the Lowest in Years.

Russian Group Will Appear on Party Program

THE Kedroff Quartet, recognized as representing the highest achievement of Russian vocal music and considered one of the foremost exponents of Russian folk and church music, will be guests of the General Motors Family Party Monday at 9:30 p. m. over the WEAF network.

Originally organized in 1897 by N. Kedroff, former professor in the Imperial Conservatory at Petrograd, the quartet has been acclaimed throughout Europe. Tonight's broadcast will be one of only two radio programs in which they will appear this season.

Their program will include "Song of India," from the Rimsky-Korsakov opera "Sadko," "Little Duckling," which is a dance song from the Province of Riazan and "Song of the Volga Boatmen." This last is from a special arrangement by Kedroff. Their other numbers are Schumann's "Minnesingers" and "Winter Serenade."

Vocal renditions by Pierre Brugg, tenor, and Taylor Buckley, soprano, as well as the Bourgeois male quartet, orchestral arrangements by the Evening in Paris band and the reading of the latest style news wirelessly from Paris, are features of the Evening in Paris program scheduled on the Columbia Broadcasting System Monday from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

Not to be outdone by the men, the ladies of the Rhythm Club are arranging a blackface performance of their own which will be the highlight of the Real Folks' broadcast over the WJZ network Monday at 9:30 p. m.

MEMORIAL PLANNED FOR CONAN DOYLE

Great Building Proposed To Be Used as World Center of Spiritualism.

By International News Service
LONDON—Plans were in hand today for the erection of a fitting memorial to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the famous creator of Sherlock Holmes and spiritualist leader.
According to Lady Doyle, the novelist's widow, the memorial will take the form of a great building in London to be a world center for the spiritualist movement.
An American suggestion that the building should have a tower with a permanent light at the top has been enthusiastically received by Lady Doyle.
"I should like this memorial building to have a dome with a naked flame burning day and night to symbolize the burning faith and everlastingness of our belief," said Lady Doyle. "We hope that the work in connection with the memorial will begin shortly, and that people of all countries will respond to the appeal which is about to be issued."

Rev. H. F. Weckmuller, pastor, said this morning.
The Sunday school and church programs were combined yesterday morning to take care of the campaign, and to hear Hugh Davidson, Galion humorist who was a guest of the church.

Golfer Reveals Trick To Shoot Hole-in-One

By International News Service
MIDLAND, Tex.—Crowd around you golfers. The secret of the hole-in-one is out at last.
"The way to do it," said Billy Moran, "is to buy a ball that someone else has made a hole-in-one with. All you have to do then is smack it."
Fourth Billy bought the ball with which Allen Tolbert a friend, has scored a dodo a few days before.
Stepping up to the 178 yard No. 7 hole of the course here, Billy swung heavily with the good old midiron.
The ball soared gracefully, struck the green and rolled into the cup.

Mrs. Ella D. Cleary, 69, widow of the late John M. Cleary, Marion clothier, died yesterday at 11:25 p. m. at her home at 138 Oak street. Death followed a week's illness of pneumonia and complications.

Mrs. Cleary was a member of one of the oldest families in Marion. She was born here Nov. 20, 1861, to Jeremiah and Ellen Stuart Darmody, natives of County Tipperary, Ireland. Her wedding to Mr. Cleary was solemnized on Aug. 4, 1881, in Marion.

For many years Mr. Cleary was in a clothing store at 113 North Main street as a partner with Frank Hughes, now in Columbus. He died May 20, 1920.

Mrs. Cleary was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church, the Federation of Catholic Women, and of the Tuesday Study club, federated literary club.

Two sons survive Mrs. Cleary. They are Dr. C. Stuart Cleary of Sycamore, Ill., and Homer Cleary of Cleveland. F. Mitchell Cleary, a son, died Aug. 2, 1925. A sister, Mrs. Katherine Gebhart, lives at 190 Forest street, and a brother, J. F. Darmody, lives at 159 North Prospect street.

Funeral mass will be celebrated Wednesday at 9 a. m. at St. Mary's Catholic church, with Rev. Fr. William J. Spickerman, pastor, officiating. Interment will be made in Marion cemetery.

Friends may view the body at the home today after 7 p. m., when it will be removed from the Hess, Market & Ave funeral home on East Church street.

SPANISH AIR LEADER ESCAPES PRISON CELL

Trans-Atlantic Aviator Sentenced for Anti-Government Utterances.

By The Associated Press
MADRID, Nov. 24—Major Ramon Franco, Spanish trans-Atlantic aviator, and hero of the Spanish air service, escaped today from prison where he was sentenced Friday to serve eight months incarceration for anti-government utterances.

Eduardo Reyes, another air service commander, escaped with Franco. He was confined in a nearby cell in the same prison, a former convent on the outskirts of Madrid.

The authorities said that most prisoners were placed there upon their honor not to attempt escape and that it would not have been hard for a strong man to have made his way out if he wished.

Major Franco was arrested Oct. 11, shortly after he had allied himself with the Republican cause in Spain, and had criticized severely the Spanish air service.

In January, 1926, he flew with Captain Ruiz de Alda from Palos, Spain, to Pernambuco, Brazil.

He made another trans-Atlantic flight in 1928, when he and four companions were forced down and floated for a week in the neighborhood of the Azores before they were picked up by the aircraft carrier Eagle. When he returned to his own country he found that he was to be tried for not having used a Spanish plane on his flight and other matters. In connection with the charges he was removed from the Spanish air service.

Last December he was arrested on charges of sedition but was freed after a day's detention.

Logan County Property in Sheriff's Sale Here

A farm in Richland township, Logan county, was sold at sheriff's sale here Saturday to Orrin K. Hilliker of Bellefontaine, on his bid of $1,500. The land, which was appraised at $1,800, was involved in an action brought by Warren L. Kennedy against Ida V. Neal and others.

Two other tracts involved in the same action were not sold for lack of bidders, as well as property at 759 Creston street, which was involved in a suit brought by the Home, Building, Savings & Loan Co. against Cora Anderson and others. The local property was appraised at $1,200.

FLIER DIES AS SHIP CRASHES TO EARTH

Plane Falls at Wellington as Pilot Waves to Family. Below.

By The Associated Press. WELLINGTON, O. Nov. 24.—Crashing to earth only a moment after the pilot waved greetings to his family gathered below, Sergt. John F. Requarth of Cleveland was instantly killed and Lieut. Milo Yoxthelmer, 33, of Wellington, was seriously injured yesterday.

Their plane fell 100 yards from the house where Mrs. Yoxthelmer and her two children were watching for Yoxthelmer, who was one of three pilots returning planes to Columbus after week-end training of recruits at Cleveland.

Mrs. Yoxthelmer and a neighbor F. C. Wiles pulled the two men from the smashed plane. Requarth was almost torn apart by the force of the impact. Yoxthelmer suffered a broken leg, a cut which may cost him the sight of his right eye and possible internal injuries.

Sergt. Requarth was a member of the four hundred fourteenth pursuit squadron, U. S. air reserve corp. Lieut. Yoxthelmer, also a reserve pilot, won his commission in the World war.

TWO BOUND OVER ON THEFT CHARGES

Marion and West Virginia Youths Held on Auto Stealing Charges.

A Marion youth and a companion of Kistler, W. Va., were bound over to the grand jury on charges of automobile stealing when arraigned in municipal court this morning. Their bonds were fixed at $2,000 each. They are John Jones, 20, of 578 Thompson street, and Clarence Chaffin.

Both were brought here from Christiansburg, Va., by police following their apprehension there last week. A model A Ford coupe stolen here Nov. 18 from Harry Weintraub, was recovered.

Grange and C. of C. Groups Discuss Convention Plans

Two Committees Go Over Arrangements for Entertainment of Ohio Farm Leaders Here at Annual Meeting Dec. 8 to 12.

Details of the program for the state grange convention to be held in Marion Dec. 8 to 12, inclusive, were discussed at a meeting this morning of the local grange convention committee with the convention committee of the Chamber of Commerce in the offices of the latter organization.

More than 2,500 members of the grange from all parts of the state are expected to attend the convention, while a crowd of 5,000 may attend if weather conditions are favorable, local convention leaders believe.

Hyde To Speak

Arthur M. Hyde, national director of agriculture, will be the principal speaker during the week. He will appear Tuesday night at a meeting in the Palace theater.

When Joint-Ease Gets In Joint Agony Gets Out

Rub it in good—it penetrates—swiftly the pain goes—the inflammation is subdued—the swelling reduced—you are ready for work again—Joint-Ease conquers pain guaranteed by all druggists—a generous tube 50 cents.

Joint-Ease

J. Taber, master of the national grange, and Walter S. Kirk, state grange master, will speak at a public reception in The Star auditorium Monday night, Dec. 8, at a meeting which will officially open the convention program.

Plans were formulated this morning to circulate petitions among downtown business and professional men urging them to keep their automobiles at home during the week in order to relieve the parking problem. Each business and professional man will be asked to sign the petition.

Each convention delegate will be given an automobile sticker indicating that he is a guest of the city and machines bearing these stickers will be given every courtesy possible, if present plans are worked out.

The local grange committee is headed by Elmer A. Williams, deputy master of the Marion county grange, which will be host to the convention, while Charles Klunk is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce convention committee.

Approve List
Members of the county grange executive committee, made up of masters of the 12 grange organizations, met Saturday afternoon in the offices of county commissioners in the courthouse to approve a list of 200 applications for the sixth degree, which will be exemplified at the session Tuesday night, Dec. 9.

Further applications may be made before Saturday at 3 p. m. to either Williams or Ora C. McGarity, county commissioners, who are prominent in grange activities and who is president of the Sixth Degree association in the county.

Entertainment for the convention sessions will be in charge of Mrs. Elmer A. Williams, whose duties will be especially directed towards entertainment of the women.

Mayor L. Don Jones will be chairman of the general reception committee which will be composed of city officials, county grange leaders and business men.

Further details of the convention will be worked out by various committees during the week. Retail merchants have been asked to meet at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning to discuss their part in the reception of the thousands of visitors, while the county grange committee is looking for another meeting Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Hotel Harding, which will be convention headquarters.

Montana Claims Champ Rattlesnake Killer

By International News Service
MILES CITY, Mont. — Rock Springs, Mont., now presents its candidate for a niche in the hall of fame alongside those immortal figures who have reached the heights by tree-sitting, coffee-drinking, marathon dancing, and other accomplishments.

Montana claims to a place in the sun lies in the record of Charles M. Dayhoff, who claims the honor of killing nearly 200 rattlesnakes. Dayhoff says he came upon a snake den while herding cattle for shipment. He killed more than 80 of the reptiles.

The next day Dayhoff took several friends with him to a hill near where he had made his first kill, and killed 90 more.

On the third day 27 more reptiles were bagged.

President must yield to the insurgents on the legislation sought by them or face a congressional fight for a special session. In a word, George insists on having his way no matter what the result may be in demoralizing
the business and industry of the country.

If Mr. Mussolini is able to get away with his plan to cut the pay of all government employees from twelve to thirty-five per cent. without raising a nation-wide riot, the world will have to take off its hat to his genius!

It's the same old story. The ape of week before last, described as "the size of a man," and the ferocious gorilla of last week which has been terrorizing Iowa farmers has turned out to be a trained monkey which got away from an organ-grinder. It's really amazing what imagination and report will do in meta-morphosing pets into mighty jungle beasts.

The official total shows that the population of the United States is 122,776,056, an increase of 17,064,436, or 16.1 per cent., during the ten-year period. It's just possible that the people who have been fearing race suicide have been needlessly alarmed.

Liquor valued at $1,000,000 was seized by eastern coast guards, last week, on two barges and an ocean-going tug, and the nineteen men making up the crews of the three were taken into custody. Considering the volume of liquor being seized these days it's no wonder the fellows who can "drink it or let it alone" are complaining over the price they have to pay for their liquid poison.

The inheritance taxes on the $125,000,000 es-
amounted to $21,879,201. A tax of that size would come mighty near wiping out the estate of the average hard-working spreader of joy
and sunshine in paragraphs.

Losses in Accounts Slight.
Despite abnormal unemployment, the people of the United States are paying their bills. So Edwin B. George, chief of the marketing service division of the department of commerce
told a gathering of retail credit men in Baltimore, last week, basing his statement on the findings of a national retail credits survey recently completed by the foreign and domestic commerce bureau of the department of commerce, the first nation-wide check-up on credits and retail credit practices ever made in America.

"Although they are buying from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000,000 of instalment goods and some $15,000,000 more of goods on open credit," Chief George told his hearers in speaking of American buying on credit, "the fact remains that the grocer, the butcher and the candi-stick maker usually get their money and the last instalment is usually paid."

Despite the many influences which might have been expected to have affected the situation, the loss in open credit sales has been kept as low as six-tenths of a per cent., the survey showed. The highest case on open accounts was 1.5 per cent. in electrical appliances.
Radio sets and supply stores came next with a credit loss of 1.4 per cent., while department stores escaped with a loss of four-tenths of a per cent. The average loss in instalment accounts was 1.2 per cent., the losses in the various lines ranging from eight per cent. by general clothing stores down to two-tenths of a per cent. loss suffered by dealers in coal,
wood, lumber and building materials.

If this survey made by the department of commerce is dependable, and we know of nothing to indicate the contrary, the American people, notwithstanding all their open-credit and instalment commitments, must be in far better shape in an economic way than they very generally have been credited with being.

Italy Prominent in the News.

Readers may have noted that the volume of news coming out of Italy for the last twelve months and deemed by the press associations
of world importance has been out of all proportion to the general estimate of the importance of Italy as a world power. Of course, the controversy between the French and Italian governments over the matter of relative naval strength has added to this volume, as have also the stories of sabrerattling by Premier Mussolini, although the latest utterance by Il Duce, his announcement that his land is ready to join the world in absolute disarmament, can hardly be classed as sabrerattling. But much of Italy's prominence in the news has been due to the fact that the story of that land today is the story of human advancement, of improvement in living conditions, of great progress in a development of the arts and sciences, of development in aviation and in transportation by land and sea
and air, and in the application of both known and new scientific principles to communication and transportation.

And this brings us up to the latest two news stories to come out of Italy. One is the perfection by Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor of wireless, of a system of automatic wireless telephony, the logical outcome of the experiments by which he lit electric lights in Sydney,
Australia, by wireless impulses from his yacht, Electra, anchored in the Bay of Genoa, and his more recent communication experiments from the same bay with the wireless station at Golfo Aranci in Sardinia. Using his system and utilizing the wireless station at Fluminio on the Italian mainland and that at Golfo Aranci on the island, Rome and Cagliari are to be connected so that it will be possible to dial any telephone in Rome from Cagliari or any phone in Cagliari from Rome.

The other story to which reference has been made is the announcement that into the new Sabando liner, Conte di Savoia, which is to be put into service in the fall of 1932, there will be built at a cost of approximately $1,000,000
three immense gyroscopic stabilizers, each thirty feet in diameter and weighing 100 tons which, when working together, will be able to hold the liner on an even keel in the roughest Atlantic weather.

Gyroscopes have been successfully used to stabilize yachts and some cruisers under 10,000 tons, but such stabilizers have been pygmies compared with the three being built for the $15,000,000 Conte di Savoia, which will be the first passenger vessel to be thus equipped,
which has a length of 820 feet, a ninety-six-foot beam and a tonnage of 45,000, and is designed to make twenty-seven and a half knots and cross from New York to Gibraltar in five days and make Naples inside seven days—a luxurious floating hotel capable of accommodating 2,250 passengers.

Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the Interior
and chairman of the White House conference on child health, told the delegates that what was wanted was a minimum of legislation, and that they intend were to tell parents of the nation: "Our function should be to help parents, not to replace them," in the bringing up of their children. That's going to prove mighty disappointing to some parents.

Two-Fifths of the World's Gold.

The United States holds two-fifths of the world's gold. This country and France possess sixty per cent. of the world's holdings. During the last ten months the gold of this country has been increased by $140,000,000 to $4,500,000,000. This is $150,000,000 short of the post-war peak, which was attained in May of 1927. The gold holdings of France are $1,099,- 000,000, an increase of $550,000,000 since 1927,
when the French government stabilized the franc.

These are the figures of the Federal Reserve board, given out last week for publication. Gold gains were made also by Great Britain, which augmented its reserve about $140,000,000 to $782,000,000; by Italy, Belgium, Switzerland and Canada. Gold losses were suffered by Germany, the Netherlands, Argentina, Brazil, Australia and Japan.

But, as this country today has good reason to know, an immense gold reserve does not necessarily mean a prosperous internal finance. The internal revenue receipts for October fell $6,732,285 below those of October a year ago,
and the total receipts for the first four months
of the present year $69,203,779 below those of the same period of last year.

A gold reserve has its purpose and it is a good one, but the dollars which are in circulation and stimulating business and employment—or employment and business, whichever way the reader will have it—the dollars which pass from hand to hand and change ownership many times daily, are those which earn a return and count in advancing the welfare of the country as a whole.

A railway coach equipped with a 500-horsepower motor and an airplane propeller attained a speed of ninety-five miles an hour in a tryout near Berlin. In the light of the present trend toward the electrification of suburban lines, here's an idea which might prove profitable if utilized.

Explaining that he intended to discourage the adoption of American methods by England's criminal class, a London judge sentenced a man charged with having fired a revolver at a policeman to ten years' penal servitude. Over here the accused would probably have gotten ten days and his picture in the papers.

Henri Matisse, held by many the greatest living painter, says there is more respect for art in America than in Europe. Little wonder!
Look at what Americans have to whack up for it when they go to Europe to buy!

The automobile people are predicting a record auto sale next year, predicated on the showing that 9,000,000 cars abroad need replacements. Let it be hoped they are right.
Every little bit will help to reduce the unemployment situation.

Sir Charles Higham, of London, urges American industries to take pride in their products and label them "American." Maybe it's because we Americans, being naturally modest, hesitate about taking action that might lead to the charge that we are boastful.

THE THINKER.

Editorial Opinion.

THAT "THIRD PARTY" TALK.

A splendid effort by the so-called progressive elements in congress to create a "third party" made up of malcontents from the Republican and Democratic ranks might have any one of several results. Two possible immediate consequences that suggest themselves are the appearance of a real bloc system as a result of the operation of a continuing disintegrative
process, and a whole new realignment of forces
in which the more responsible representatives of the two great parties would work together up to a certain point, and would incline to present a solid front against dissenters from both camps.

The second possibility may or may not be the more likely to develop into reality, but it is the more logical of the two, and is the one that would leave open a way for continuance of orderly party government in this country.
Indeed, if a general inter-party revolt of the "progressive" forces at this time could be counted upon to produce such a finish, an encouragement of the secession might on the whole be a good thing. That sort of a break would at least tend to unscramble the existing,
almost impossible, situation under which a party label on a lapel may mean anything or nothing—except when there are committee appointments to be distributed.

The condition that seems to militate most against any such denouement to the present upshot talk among the members of the radical crowd in congress, is the fact that such a realignment would place the aggregation in a hopeless minority division and would rob it of most of its power to make trouble.

Though they talk a lot, and furnish most of the noise that floats from the doors of the national capitol building, the "progressives" really are comparatively few. Relatively, they are only a handful, and much of their prestige grows out of the circumstance that for a number of years they have been able to maintain a balance of power or near balance of power
which those who logically should squelch them, have not had sense enough to destroy. So they have exercised an influence on legislation
and on public policy that has been grossly out of proportion to their numerical strength and to the aggregate size of their popular following.

It seems difficult to believe that the leaders of the radical clique will be willing to risk losing their position of tactical advantage by open secession from the parties they encumber.—

Going Away to School in 1837.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Here is an old letter written by Miss Amelia
C. Hittel, of Hamilton, Ohio, from Cincinnati, where she was attending a young ladies' broad-ing school, to a friend back home, under the date of September 28, 1837, which throws light on what going away to school was like in Ohio almost a century ago. The school she was attending was Pickett's Female Institution.

It was Miss Hittel's first term, and even that was not very far advanced. Her father had accompanied her down from Hamilton, uncertain as to which of several schools for young ladies in Cincinnati they would choose. They visited all of them and decided on this one.

The journey from Hamilton to Cincinnati
was made at night on a canal boat, the ladies' cabin of which was so crowded that the prospective student was unable to sleep. A bride and a bridegroom in the party, she confesses, interested her very much. While inspecting the several schools, the Hittels stopped at "Carters," which, we may presume, was a hotel of that day in early Cincinnati.

She tells her friends back home that she is boarding at Dr. McGuire's on George street, explaining that the street address need not be given in writing her, Cincinnati was such a small place and Dr. McGuire so well known.
She was then enjoying the school work and her new friends, but admits that she was terribly homesick at first, when she realized that she was "left alone, twenty-five miles from my nearest and dearest relatives."

Dinner Stories.

Fred—"My dear Dora, let this thought console you for your lover's death. Remember that other and better men than he have gone
the same way."
Reverend One, eagerly. They haven't all gone, have they?
"Are you married?"
"Yes."
"Is it hard to be a cowboy?"
"It depends on which department of the profession you take up," answered Cactus Joe. "If you ride the range, it's hard work, but if you sit for pictures for films and the billboards, all you have to put up with is a little temperamental strain."

A Daily Massage.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Massage is not a modern art. It is one of the oldest of all physical treatments for disease and for the exercise of the body. Somewhere about the year 430 B. C. Hippocrates, the first of great physicians, spoke of the treatment of a dislocated shoulder by massage.

Today we have all manner of expensive machines and apparatus for applying vibration and massage. There will always be invented a mechanical contrivance for every need. But in this field physicians are calling a halt in the indiscriminate use of such instruments. It has been found that injuries have been caused by their use.

The most valuable form of massage is that given by the skilled technician, under the direction of the doctor. The greatest benefit may come from properly directed massage. There are many medical and surgical conditions greatly helped by passive or active exercise of this sort.

Massage is a highly developed art. The development of the Swedish school of massage early in the nineteenth century did much to put massage on a firm footing and to awaken
the public mind to its benefits.

Massage of the highest type does not consist of aimless, unsystematic rubbing and knead-
ing. On the contrary, it means manipulation of a definite and systematic character, done in a scientific manner, each case being treated on its own merits.

By means of the right sort of massage, sup-pleness and activity of the tissues are aimed for; stiffness and inactivity are overcome; the blood supply and secretions are increased; the nerves and lymphatics are stimulated; the muscles and tendons are made to contract more vigorously.

Heat and massage aid greatly in restoring the circulation in some affected part of the body when the muscle fibers need repair.
Proper and careful massage of a sprain is often the only way to bring a troublesome part back to a normal condition. But great harm can be done to the torn ligaments by improperly directed massage.

Massage has proved useful in cases of infantile paralysis, chorea, neuralgia and neu-ritis. Even in serious diseases, such as locomotor ataxia and muscular atrophy, it has been helpful.

Muscular strength is based on proper muscular action. The very best exercise is to use the natural movements of walking or running.
When such exercise is not to be had, in case of injury or disease, then massage may take its place with great benefit.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

T. E. A. Q.—What can be done for unpleasant breath. I think I breathe through my mouth, especially at night.
2—I am a girl of nearly 17 years of age, 5
ft. tall. What should I weigh?
3—Will ironized yeast help me to gain weight?

A.—Have your nose and throat examined.
Your tonsils may be affected, or you may have a polypus in your nose or throat. Your doctor will advise you. Also be sure that your teeth are in good condition and that your system is clear.

2—You should weigh approximately 122 pounds. When I give these figures you will understand I am speaking about the average person, such figures merely indicating the average weight as discovered by the examination of a large number of persons. If you are a few pounds under or over this weight you must not feel that this is of any particular significance.

3—Yes. A good general tonic combined with the rules for good health should bring about gratifying results.

E. K. W. Q.—What do you advise for gas
in the system?
2—How can I reduce?
3—What do you advise for pimples?
A.—Correct your diet and avoid poor elimination.
2—Eat sparingly of starches, sugars and fats.
Get regular, systematic exercise.
3—Eat simple food and avoid constipation.
Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

It's Always Possible.

C. R. Q.—What can be done for enlarged prostate?
2—Does cold cream tend to increase the growth of hair?
3—What can be done for superfluous hair?
A.—Try alternate applications of heat and cold, applied for about ten or fifteen minutes twice daily. Avoid using cold cream and powder to excess. This has a tendency to clog
the pores and coarsen the grain of the skin.
2—If any of it is very oily and greasy.
3—For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—

A Washington Daybook.

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

Washington, Nov. 24—In a comparatively obscure spot in the capital—far from the place on the bench of the customs court where he spent two years or so ago as a "lame duck"—a one-time power in the Democratic party must be rejoicing today.

He is Fins James Garrett, of Tennessee—for two dozen years a continuous member of the house of representatives, and considered one of the smartest floor strategists that body ever has seen.

The fortunes of his party always meant much to Garrett. A large part of the time he was in congress, this man, respected and admired by Democrats and Republicans alike, either was acting or actual Democratic leader on the floor.

In 1926, he was defeated for election to the senate.

After that defeat he went to a life job on the customs court—a lame duck. But friends say his heart and his chief interest is still "on the hill."

There are those who say that as a parliamentarian and strategist Fins Garrett has few equals. Others insist he has something more —the knack of thinking fast on his feet in debate. And they refer you to that famous fight to seat Representative Sol Bloom back in 1924.

In this instance, the Republican committee majority had ruled in favor of Walter Chandler, Republican congressman for the nineteenth New York seat. The time was April in the year of a presidential election.

The party complexion of the New York delegation hung in the balance. With Chandler in,
it would be Republican by one; with Bloom
seated, Democratic by one.

A three-way presidential race was looming,
and it was possible that the house might be called on to elect the next president. New York's vote in such an election was being decided in the Chandler-Bloom contest.

When the vote came, all except three Democrats had been mustered, while there were 15 Republicans missing. Also, a group of seven irregular and two regular Republicans joined the Democrats in support of Bloom.

The committee majority report was overthrown, 210 to 198. The next vote seated Bloom, 209 to 198.

It was at this point that Garrett did his quick thinking. Jumping to his feet, he shifted his vote from "aye" to "no." Then, at the same time, he popped in a motion to reconsider the vote and to table the reconsideration motion.

Speaker Gillett and Nick Longworth, then
Republican floor leader, had been caught napping.
If Garrett's move succeeded, Bloom was in to stay, for the tie could not be undone
when the missing Republicans showed up.

Well, Gillett accepted Garrett's double motion "without objection." The Republicans tried to save the day with a point of order, but it was too late.

Bloom was in for keeps.

HARDING TEAM ROUTED IN LAST GAME

WILDCATS SUBMERGE LOCALS WITH EIGHT SCORES TO WIN 53-2

Presidents Take Seventh Beating of Year; Safety Gets 2 Points.

HARDING High school's President gridders played the final game of a disastrous football season Saturday on the Springfield field by taking a 53-2 walloping at the hands of the Springfield Wildcats. The one-sided beating was the worst absorbed by the locals this year.

Smith kicked off for Harding to start the game and the Wildcats immediately bared their teeth and tore into the Presidents' defenses with an assault that netted 21 points before the game was six minutes old. Claus carried the oval across the goal for the first score after Alloway and Ferguson had combined efforts to place the ball within a yard of the goal.

Alloway Breaks Loose—Harding again kicked off and within another minute Springfield had chalked up its second touchdown. Alloway racing through the entire Harding team 57 yards for the counter. Alloway booted the ball between the uprights for placement for the extra points on both of the first two scores.

Immediately after Harding kicked off for the third time Cramer grabbed the ball and crashed through tackle to the goal line from where Alloway again carried it across. Claus bucked the line for the twenty-first point. With the exception of a single touchdown in the third period this ended Springfield's scoring rampage until the final quarter. Alloway was removed from the play following the third score.

Harding's only points in the game came as a result of a Springfield safety in the third period.

Another Rampage—The Wildcats loosed another smashing attack on the Presidents' forward wall early in the final period that netted them four more touchdowns and a pair of extra points. Caywood and Cramer did most of the running ball carrying for the Wildcats team in the final period.

FOOTBALL in the N. C. O. league is now completed except for the one game on Thanksgiving between Ashland and Mansfield. That one game promises to be quite enough for any ordinary afternoon and for Mansfield it may prove too much. The champions of the league hinges on the outcome of the game. At present Bucyrus and Gallon are deadlocked for the leadership of the circuit both with three wins, one loss and one tied to their credit. If Mansfield defeats Ashland, Thursday it will give the Tigers their second straight league title but should Ashland win it will leave a three-way deadlock for the championship and put Mansfield into second place. Or call it fourth if you will. Of course it is possible for the game to end in a deadlock which would put Mansfield in a triple deadlock with Gallon and Bucyrus for the title and leave Ashland in fourth place. This will get entirely too complicated if I try to figure out any more possible endings so I'll forget it and let Ashland and Mansfield settle the question. They're really the ones to do it anyway.

Now that Harding has finished the football season some of the followers of the Presidents, and not unlikely some of the Presidents themselves are wondering if the local outfit will place anyone on the all-N. C. O. football team. The team this year is being picked by a different method than has been the custom in past years. Sports writers from each of the towns in the league are co-operating in an effort to pick the strongest lineup. When the lineup is announced I fully expect to hear a doleful cry go up from those individuals who think some of their favorites have been slighted. But that won't make any difference. No one expects sports writers to do anything right. The team will probably be announced in The Star and all other N. C. O. league papers the day after Thanksgiving.

sixth teams on the field. The entire first string team did not get into the game as a unit after the first period.

Michigan, Northwestern Argue Relative Merits

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 24—The Western conference football season has passed into the stage of argument over the relative merits of Michigan and Northwestern, the co-champions, but the middleweight still has a pair of big gridiron punches left.

The biggest punch will be produced in Soldier field Saturday when Knute Rockne sends his undefeated Notre Dame eleven against the Army, one of the East's best teams. On Thursday two contests will be played at Soldier field. In the afternoon, Oregon State and West Virginia will clash in a benefit contest for the Shriner's child hospital fund. A preliminary will be played in the morning between former gridiron greats of Notre Dame and Northwestern.

The debate between Northwestern and Michigan supporters is gaining volume and promises to be louder and longer than previous discussions over the relative strength of joint champions of the Big Ten.

Wildcats Force Irish—Northwestern not only shared in the Big Ten title, but gained the distinction of giving Notre Dame's rough riders their most miserable afternoon of the season. For 53 minutes of the game Northwestern was just as good—even better in spots—but the Irish finally connected in the final period for a 14 to 0 triumph to preserve their spotless record.

The Wildcats, beaten as they were, played more football than in any of their victories. The big Northwestern line held Notre Dame at bay for three periods and only slipped on two fatal occasions.

If the Army should happen to overturn Notre Dame Saturday, the boys at Northwestern will rise up and accept part of the credit—credit for "softening" up Rockne's first eleven, which spent the whole afternoon on the field.

Indiana Surprises—The windup of the conference season produced the most astonishing upset of the season, not only in the Big Ten, but anywhere—Indiana defeated Purdue.

The Bollermakers, ranked as the equal of anything in the league, despite a 14 to 13 defeat by Michigan, were figured to name the score by which they would defeat Indiana.

The Hoosiers, however, produced their only Big Ten touchdown to win by 7 to 6.

Michigan gained its split of the title by finishing fast to defeat Chicago's kicked about Maroons, 16 to 0. Ohio State, even with Wesley Eugene Fessler playing superlative football, just did outfinish Illinois, 12 to 9.

Wisconsin brightened up its disappointing season by defeating Minnesota, 14 to 0, and Iowa did the same by defeating Nebraska's Cornhuskers, 12 to 7.

BOBCATS REIGN AS B. A. A. CHAMPIONS

Decisive Beating of Wesleyan Gives Them Second Straight Title.

BY LATHROP MARK
By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 24—Every question of Ohio gridiron supremacy has been settled. Ohio Wesleyan is again champion of the Buckeye conference. Heidelberg is king of the Ohio conference, and shares with Ohio U. top rank in the state at large. Findlay is champion of the Northwest conference while Wittenberg and John Carroll were the best of the unaffiliated teams.

Six games remain to be played. Thanksgiving day but they will know nothing to what is already known except whether Dayton is better than Wittenberg.

Even the Akron-Mt. Union game at Akron will have little bearing on the subject of supremacy in northeast Ohio. Eight Ohio conference teams in that section—Akron, Baldwin-Wallace, Case, Hiram, Mt. Union, Oberlin, Western Reserve and Wooster—usually play most of their games against each other although their number has been augmented by the tentative addition of Ashland and Kent this season.

Akron has a clear edge so far, being the only college which has not lost a game to another member of the group and is not expected to have much difficulty with the Mounts.

Play for Third Place—In other turkey day games, Miami plays at Cincinnati for third place in the Buckeye conference. Western Reserve and Case settle their annual difficulties with nothing more at stake than whether Reserve is to win one game this season. Xavier is host to the Haskell Indians and Wilberforce entertains West Virginia Institute.

The Buckeye conference question was determined without a doubt at Delaware Saturday when Ohio U. trampled Wesleyan underfoot 20 to 0. It gave the Athens Bobcats their second title in a row. They have won their last 18 games with only one tie.

The game remains to be played this season between Mansfield and Ashland in the league. The standing follows:

	W.	L.	T.	Pct.	Pts.
Gallon	3	1	1	.750	7
Bucyrus	3	1	1	.750	7
Mansfield	2	0	2	1.000	6
Ashland	2	1	1	.667	5
Harding	1	3	1	.200	3
Shelby	0	5	0	.000	0
